

CONTRIBUTORS TO THIS ISSUE (1/2014)

Jennifer Lees-Marshment is Associate Professor of Politics at Auckland University and her research focuses on the relationship between the public and political elites. She is a world expert in political marketing and author/editor of 13 books. Email: j.lees-marshment@auckland.ac.nz.

James W. Peterson a professor at Valdosta State University. He is a specialist in comparative politics, American foreign policy, and public administration. Within comparative politics he offers both the capstone course for undergraduate political science majors and a course on the post-communist systems of Central Europe/Eurasia. Email: jpetersn@valdosta.edu.

Sarah Kuck is an Academic researcher at Valdosta State University. Her main areas of interests are post-communist systems of Central Europe/Eurasia. Email: s.kuck@valdosta.edu.

Ondřej Filipec is a Academic researcher at the Department of Politics and European Studies, Faculty of Arts at Palacký University in Olomouc. His research interests are focused on the WMD issues and European Union. Email: ondrej.filipec@upol.cz.

Hana Hurtíková is an Academic researcher at the Department of Politics and European Studies at Palacky University in Olomouc, Czech Republic. Her main areas of interests are political communication and media studies. She is an author of several articles in this field. Email: hana.hurtikova@upol.cz.

Ondřej Němčák is an Academic researcher at the Department of Politics and European Studies at Palacky University in Olomouc, Czech Republic. His research interest is public administration. Email: ondrej.nemcak@gmail.com